Like any industry experiencing rapid growth, the solar sector isn't immune to unscrupulous practices and solar fraud. While most solar companies and representatives operate with integrity, homeowners ...

If you've been approached by someone offering to install solar panels at no cost or promising you'll never have to pay another electricity bill, be careful--it's likely a scam."

Scams are unfortunately common in the solar industry. Learn more about some of the most likely scams you may face when trying to go solar.

One of the biggest scams around promises no-cost or free solar panels. This video reveals how consumers can protect themselves from these shady companies.

If solar panels cannot work on your property or if you cannot afford to purchase solar panels up front, there are several common alternatives worth considering:

These scams start with an unexpected phone call, message on social, or even an in-person visit. The so-called official offers you an "energy audit" to reduce your utility costs. Or they might try to sign you ...

What really gets me about that ridiculous video is that they're pitching a type of generator that actually exists. It converts radio waves and potentially other radiation frequencies into usable power.

Stay ahead of the game with our informative videos, unboxing, and installation tutorials. Get the latest trends, news, and developments in the Solar and Renewable Energy industry.

These videos, which promise unlimited electricity from mythical devices, have been systematically debunked by scientists and fact-checkers Energy.gov.
